Megan, who heads the firm's San Francisco office, is a seasoned trial lawyer and business litigator with over a decade of experience handling high-stakes litigation across a variety of industries. She has appeared on behalf of both domestic and international clients in federal and state matters involving consumer class actions, mass torts, employment disputes, intellectual property claims, allegations of unfair business practices and unfair competition, breach of contract claims, insurance coverage and government investigations.

Prior to joining Willenken, Megan practiced at Quinn Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan LLP for 12 years, representing numerous global corporations and service providers in the fields of technology, oil and gas, energy, consumer packaged goods, retail, insurance and media. She has scaled and managed teams to drive multiple jury verdicts and settlements and represented the NFL, the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences and many Fortune 500 companies in litigation, mediation and arbitration. Megan also drove the settlement of thousands of claims as one of the lead counsel representing a utility company in connection with multi-billion dollar claims arising from one of the largest wildfires in California history.

Megan received her J.D. from Stanford Law School and clerked for the Honorable Marjorie O. Rendell of the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit.

Megan is fluent in Spanish and currently lives in the Silicon Valley. She is actively involved in the tech community and serves as Associate to the Lafayette College Board of Trustees and Chair of the Lafayette West Coast Advisory Council.
