The NAMWOLF Trials Practice Area Committee

Members of the NAMWOLF Trials Practice Area Committee (“Trials PAC”) have significant, demonstrated trial experience. Our members try cases in state and federal court (and some international tribunals) and can put their experience to work in arbitration—always with the goal of getting the best outcome for the client.

Trials PAC members have tried jury and bench trials in a wide range of subject matters, including business and commercial litigation; mass torts; complex and catastrophic injury; employment discrimination; wage and hour claims; ERISA; breach of contract; product and premises liability; professional liability; securities liability; and patent, trademark, copyright, trade secret, and other intellectual property infringement matters. They have represented their clients’ interests in “bet the company” litigation and class actions, as well as the cases that make up the day-to-day work of corporate legal departments. Whether representing an insurance company, a leading retailer, a national financial institution, or a regional business, our members are nimble, quick on their feet, and able to take on whatever the day in court may throw at them.

Our Trials PAC directory showcases the talents of our experienced NAMWOLF trial attorneys. We hope it provides a resource for in-house counsel looking to work with experienced NAMWOLF trial attorneys on legal matters heading to trial or for our members to work collaboratively with each other across jurisdictions. Collectively, Trials PAC members are estimated to have spent nearly 45,000 days in trial, with over 6,000 jury trials, 6,500 bench trials, and 3,500 arbitrations under their belts. Trial PAC members recognize that each trial - small or large - is significant to the client.

When you need seasoned representation—NAMWOLF’s Trial PAC members have got you covered!

Interested in a complimentary CLE for your in-house team, need help putting together a multi-jurisdictional team, or want information about this NAMWOLF Practice Area Committee? Our Trials PAC Co-Chairs can help!

No matter how complex the case, we are ready to ensure every client the best possible representation. Tough cases are our business.

Over the last twenty-five years, our trial lawyers have successfully handled many of the most complex and high-profile cases in Washington and the Pacific Northwest. Clients turn to us for practical, common-sense advice, and tenacious advocacy, when businesses and reputations are on the line.

Calfo Eakes was recently ranked as one of Seattle’s top commercial litigation and white collar criminal defense firms by Chambers & Partners USA.

Recent Litigation Experience

CEO of national real estate syndication firm in a matter arising from the company’s sale of $4 billion in commercial real estate through private placement and other investment offerings. Defended client in a three-month trial in federal district court alleging securities, mail and wire fraud.

Representation of King County in age, race, and disability discrimination suit brought by former employee of wastewater treatment division. After a four-week trial in King County Superior Court, the jury unanimously found in favor of King County on all claims. The jury’s verdict was recently affirmed on appeal, Marin v. King County, No. 72666-8-I (Div. 1, June 6, 2016). The plaintiff’s motion for discretionary review by the Washington Supreme Court was denied.

President of native-owned, Canadian cigarette distribution company on tax evasion, obstruction of justice and perjury charges. After a jury trial, the government dismissed all charges.

Representation of publicly-elected Washington State Auditor Troy Kelley in prosecution alleging wire fraud, money laundering, perjury, tax fraud and false statements. After a six-week jury trial, we obtained an acquittal on the false statement charges and the jury deadlocked on all remaining counts.
The lawyers at CHEN LEFTWICH LLP practice at the intersection of complex transactions and litigation. We eschew playbooks when solving problems, and our approach impacts results. Defying convention in the IT industry, we secured major concessions from vendors that later formed the basis for multiple 8-figure recoveries for our client. In bet-the-company litigation, we have multiple trial and pre-trial victories against teams from AmLaw 100 and well-known plaintiff's firms. In each instance, our clients were successful when observers expected adverse results. Our clients include multiple Fortune 100 and Global Fortune 500 companies, and they entrust us with contracts that impact 11-figures in annual operating revenues and litigations when the stakes matter.

Counter-parties have sought our advice after negotiations have concluded. We have won cases using theories that the same courts have rejected—when those theories were advanced by others. We are one of a handful of teams in the country that have successfully litigated a F/RAND (patent) case to verdict. And our examinations of opposing witnesses have repeatedly had case-dispositive effect.

Our attorneys make it a priority to be responsive to clients in researching and providing advice. Firm Overview

WE'RE THE GIANT KILLERS
We thrive on the tough cases: the ones where your company, fortune or liberty are on the line. Bring us your biggest problem to solve. We’ll get it done.

Members of Keller/Anderle LLP have over 325 jury trials among them, with an unparalleled record of success. We win and win big. And we square off against some of the nation’s biggest firms. Our practice focuses on high-stakes litigation of all types — the really difficult cases — including commercial, intellectual property, securities, bad faith, white collar criminal defense, class actions, and entertainment/sports.

We see ourselves as old-fashioned barristers who can try any kind of case, and we’ve proven it by prevailing against some of the nation’s major law firms. In just the last eight years we’ve won judgments of over $925 million and settled others for eight figures. The firm includes some of the best minds in the profession — and some of the most intuitive.

WE'RE RIGHT AT HOME IN TRIAL
Most major law firms have litigation partners with very little — and surprisingly often, absolutely no — jury trial experience. When trial looms, they may settle the case for far less (or more) than it’s worth, because of fear or merely because they have no idea what to do in front of actual jurors.

We try cases. All of our preparation is done with trial in mind. We’re not interested in running up billable hours for their own sake. We use pre-trial discovery to support and craft our story at trial. We don’t make needless motions, take irrelevant depositions or expend resources in unwarranted adversarial jousting. We invest our time and energy advancing the ball and furthering our strategy. Everything we do is oriented toward achieving a successful outcome.

Most cases never make it to trial. But great trial lawyers get the great settlements. When the other side knows you try and win cases, are meticulously prepared and relish the battle, the client gets maximum value. The opposite is true, too — when the other side knows you have no track record at trial and smells blood in the water, settlement value is greatly diminished.

ARBITRATION AND MEDIATION PROS
The same skills that win cases before juries come into play during arbitration and mediation. Knowing how to present evidence in a compelling, persuasive way to judges and arbitrators is a rare skill. They, too, can tell a top trial lawyer when they see one — and factor that into what your case is worth.

CLIENT-CENTERED FEE ARRANGEMENTS
“Biglaw” knows just one way of operating: the billable hour. Straight billable-hour fee arrangements encourage fee inflation, needlessly high staffing, and bloated discovery and motion practice. With layers of associates and senior associates, junior partners and senior partners on each case, whole teams of lawyers are used to produce the simplest memos. Each attorney knows only a portion of the case, and “lead counsel” may not know much at all without briefing from others. Every court appearance involves a parade.
Kim Vaughan Lerner LLP has extensive experience in complex commercial litigation, employment litigation and insurance defense matters in Florida state and federal courts. We have demonstrated our ability to handle significant cases successfully to jury verdict, bench trial, or final arbitral hearing. In the last eight years, we have taken fourteen matters to trial, including defending a tobacco manufacturer in a products liability trial, defending a chemical manufacturer/distributor in an environmental contamination trial, and defending a hospitality client in a transgender employment trial.

We are a "go-to" firm for high stakes litigation, for matters that may impact the highest levels of any business organization, or for matters that require the utmost discretion and confidentiality. We are routinely retained in such instances because of our ability to analyze problems, offer practical advice, and work with our clients to achieve results through efficient and effective case management.

We are highly regarded by our peers in Florida, as we are ranked in Chambers USA, Super Lawyers, and several Florida attorney surveys. In addition, our firm is "AV" rated by Martindale-Hubbell. At KVL Law, diversity is more than a catch phrase, it is a way of life. Nearly all of our attorneys are persons of color, and more than half of them are women. All of our lawyers share a deep commitment to our community as reflected in our extensive record of voluntary bar service, pro bono work, and community volunteer service.
ABOUT THE FIRM: Called a “Big Gun” and “High Profile” by the San Francisco Chronicle and the Recorder, and a “Top Law Firm” by the National Law Journal, Lafayette & Kumagai LLP is a minority-owned boutique litigation firm that specializes in business torts, employment, complex litigation and trials. Lafayette & Kumagai received the Minority-Owned Law Firm Client Service Award, presented by the California Minority Counsel Program for outstanding client service. The firm was named by clients as an Honor Roll firm in Complex Commercial Litigation and Complex Employment Litigation in BTI Litigation Outlook 2019: Changes, Trends and Opportunities for Law Firms. The firm has been listed in “Litigation Kings” and in “Who Represents America’s Biggest Companies?” in Corporate Counsel magazine’s annual report on the law firms most used by the Fortune 100. Lafayette & Kumagai is one of few minority-owned firms to argue before the United States Supreme Court, HUD v. Rucker, 535 U.S. 125 (2002).

TRIAL PRACTICE: Lafayette & Kumagai is well-known for its strong trial practice. The firm’s attorneys have extensive experience preparing complicated cases for trial from the commencement of litigation, but often are brought in midstream to try cases on behalf of clients such as CBS, Viacom, Pacific Gas and Electric Company, McKesson Corporation, the Regents of the University of California and Shell Oil Company. Partner Gary T. Lafayette has tried over thirty cases to verdict and served a founding co-chair of the NAMWOLF Trials Practice Area Committee.

Lafayette & Kumagai has highly significant trial experience, trying complicated matters in difficult courts. Sought out for their trial expertise, the firm’s lawyers are retained to try cases that fall outside their bailiwicks, ranging from securities cases to a consumer class action in which Plaintiff’s demand exceeded $78 million. In addition to jury trials, Lafayette & Kumagai consistently prevails in bench trials, arbitrations and preliminary injunction hearings on behalf of its clients. The firm has recently been sought out to present its expertise on practicing law in a virtual environment, after conducting a federal virtual bench trial in June 2020 and securing a favorable judgment for its client.

The firm’s recent trial victories include a defense verdict in a disability discrimination case, a defense jury verdict in a constructive discharge trial in San Francisco, a defense decision in a pregnancy discrimination arbitration, a defense verdict in a high profile whistleblower trial in U.S. District Court, and a defense verdict in a sexual harassment and retaliation trial involving three plaintiffs. These are on top of a nonsuit in an age discrimination/termination trial, and a Judgment as a Matter of Law in a disability discrimination and failure to accommodate case.

Unmatched Experience

Mac Murray & Shuster is a nationally recognized, women-owned law firm focused on consumer protection and privacy regulatory compliance and litigation. From entrepreneurial startups to Fortune 500 companies, we help businesses proactively manage their compliance responsibilities and establish a defensible position that mitigates risk. Our clients rely on us to help them identify and resolve compliance issues before they find their way to a courtroom or catch the eye of a regulator, frequently helping them avoid litigation altogether.

When litigation is unavoidable, we move quickly, decisively, and with integrity. We have obtained excellent results for clients with regulators and courts, including investigation closures, case dismissals, and settlements for tens of millions of dollars less than original demands.

Getting Results

At Trial

When it comes to complex business and commercial disputes, Walsh attorneys are equipped to successfully handle matters in all stages including through mediation, arbitration, and trial. Our versatile team has represented some of the country’s largest and most prestigious companies across a broad range of industries. We prosecute and defend complex and multi-party litigation, and are sought after for our skill in many subject areas including intellectual property, labor and employment, construction, commercial and business litigation, and trade secrets. We find that the most economical strategy begins before a dispute even arises, and work to develop strategies to avoid litigation and minimize litigation risk. When a dispute does emerge, Walsh’s track record speaks for itself: our litigators have successfully tried hundreds of cases in arbitrations as well as in state and federal courts.

Representative Matters:

• Walsh’s labor and employment law practice group successfully defended a New Jersey university in an arbitration to remove an employee. Following five days of testimony, the arbitrator ruled for Walsh’s client, largely based on two days of cross of the employee.

• Immunex v. Sandoz, D.N.J. in this 2018 patent law bench trial, Walsh attorneys successfully teamed with attorneys from an AmLaw 100 firm to try a series of novel patent issues resulting in a finding of infringement of valid and enforceable patents. Walsh attorneys directed and crossed expert witnesses and also handled daily evidence arguments.

• DHL v. Log-Net, D.N.J. in this 2018 two-week federal jury trial, Walsh attorneys represented a software creator. The jury returned a contract and copyright verdict of over $14 million in favor of Walsh’s client while finding no basis for any of the claims by the adverse party.

• Kars 4 Kids v. America Can, D.N.J. in this 2019 trademark jury trial, Walsh attorneys teamed with attorneys from an AmLaw 100 firm to try a two-week case resulting in the jury rejecting the adversary’s claims. The Walsh team handled two witnesses and numerous evidence issues.

• EagleView Techs. v. Xtractware Solutions, D.N.J. in this federal jury trial, Walsh teamed with attorneys from an AmLaw 100 firm to successfully represent a leading provider of aerial imagery and data analytics in a patent infringement action concerning software patents, resulting in a September 2019 jury award of $125 million.

• Mondis v. LG, D.N.J. Walsh attorneys teamed with an AmLaw 100 firm to defend against claims of patent infringement and successfully moved to vacate a $45 million jury verdict following a 2019 trial.

• Adopt Pharma v. Teva, D.N.J. in a June 2020 federal bench trial, Walsh attorneys teamed with attorneys from an AmLaw 100 firm to successfully defend against claims for patent infringement concerning a generic version of the nasal spray treatment for opioid overdoses, resulting in a finding that claims from four patents related to Narcan are invalid.

• In a currently pending arbitration, the firm’s lead construction attorney serves as counsel to a Fortune 500 company in a dispute arising out of the construction of a corporate headquarters. It is a complex dispute over alleged design errors leading to violations of the fire code.

Zuber Lawler is one of the most selective law firms in the United States.

Zuber Lawler represents clients throughout the world from offices in Austin, Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles, New York, Phoenix and Silicon Valley. Zuber Lawler focuses on intellectual property; M&A, finance, real estate and other transactions; IPOs, antitrust, data/privacy, FDA, anti-corruption and other regulatory services; product liability; employment; and litigation related to most of these practice areas. Zuber Lawler represents Fortune listed companies as well as funds and government entities. We also represent premier companies in emerging industries and technologies including blockchain, cleantech, esports/virtual reality, and legalized cannabis. Our attorneys are thought leaders in these emerging markets, providing the confidence our clients need to succeed on this bold new legal terrain. Zuber Lawler’s attorneys work in languages covering 90% of the world’s population.

Trial Experience

Zuber Lawler has proven trial attorneys, known for prevailing in difficult cases. Our trial practice is national and international in scope in that we handle matters that cross national borders and involve multiple jurisdictions and legal systems.

Our clients’ ability to reach their goals in litigation, whether favorable settlements, trial wins, or mitigation of exposure, is enhanced by counsel known as tough litigators who take cases to trial when warranted. We are proven trial attorneys, known for prevailing in difficult cases. We begin each case by listening carefully to the client, followed by straightforward and frank discussions, a study of the strengths and weaknesses of the case, careful analysis of the potential risks and benefits as well as the client’s tolerance for those risks, and timely and judicious discovery. Based on these factors, and in conjunction with client input we implement a litigation plan that best suits the client’s needs and goals. Thus, while we approach each case with trial in mind, as part of our pre-litigation investigation, we determine the best strategy to attain an optimal solution, including considering alternatives such as mediation, arbitration, settlement, and case dispositive motions. Short of an actual trial, our experience has taught us that sometimes the most effective tool in negotiations is to be able to confidently proclaim, “Ready for trial, your Honor”.

We further understand that today’s legal and regulatory global environment is one in which litigation can threaten a company’s very existence. Our attorneys have extensive experience with such bet-the-company matters, and we are recognized for our skill in handling critical issues.

The trial experience of our attorneys involves the following subject matter areas, among others: Contract and Commercial, Employment and other Civil Rights, Intellectual Property, Product Liability and White Collar Defense.
