A NOTE FROM LESLIE D. DAVIS

NAMWOLF CEO

Welcome to the 2022 Annual Meeting, our first in-person Annual Meeting since 2019! I couldn't be more excited for my first in-person Annual Meeting as CEO, and I'm beyond thrilled that it's taking place in my hometown of Chicago.

It was such a pleasure to meet so many of you at the Driving Diversity and Leadership Conference back in March. I know there are many more people for whom our Annual Meeting is their first in-person conference attended since before the pandemic. As we continue to celebrate NAMWOLF's 20 year anniversary, we are determined to make this event an exceptional experience for all our great Law Firm Members, In-House Counsel, and Business Partners.

For more than two decades, NAMWOLF has fought for the advancement of women and minorities in the legal profession by promoting minority and women owned law firms. NAMWOLF has grown into the preeminent national organization for connecting businesses with diverse legal teams, and we've done it by only taking on the most exemplary law firms as members. Every Law Firm Member in attendance here should take pride in belonging to an outstanding firm. We want to make it as easy as possible for in-house counsel to find the best diverse outside legal counsel, and our Annual Meeting is at the core of that effort. The Annual Meeting is a wonderful opportunity for corporate clients to witness first-hand how accomplished and skilled our Law Firm Members are, and a great time for our firms to build their networks of legal minds across the United States.

It's a genuine pleasure to welcome you to Chicago and to NAMWOLF's 2022 Annual Meeting. These events aren't possible without the support of our members, our sponsors, the NAMWOLF team, NAMWOLF's board of directors and advisory council, and our great Business Partners. Please be sure to return the support of our Business Partners by visiting their exhibits throughout the conference. If you need any assistance during your stay, please don't hesitate to reach out to me or to a member of the NAMWOLF team.

Warmest Regards

Leslie

Veta T. Richardson | President and CEO | ASSOCIATION OF CORPORATE COUNSEL

Veta T. Richardson is the president and chief executive officer of the Association of Corporate Counsel (ACC). Headquartered in Washington, DC, ACC is the world's largest legal association dedicated exclusively to serving the interests of in-house counsel. With an international membership of more than 45,000 in-house lawyers at more than 10,000 organizations in 85 countries, ACC serves as the "voice of the in-house bar" for corporate lawyers at 98 percent of the Fortune 100 and 51 percent of the Global 1000.

With more than 60 chapter operations around the world, Richardson's top priorities as CEO involve continuing to increase ACC's global footprint and charting the organization through a strategic plan and vision designed to strengthen its position as the global voice for in-house counsel. Members look to ACC to advocate in support of their rights and interests as in-house counsel, as well as to offer the practice resources, education, global legal and regulatory analysis, and networking opportunities needed to advance their professional development.

Previously, as executive director of the Minority Corporate Counsel Association (MCCA) from 2001-2011, Richardson raised the bar on the advancement of diversity and inclusion in the legal profession through the establishment of a multi-pronged platform that consisted of groundbreaking research and white papers; thought-provoking publications, such as Diversity & the Bar; and best-in-class programs, services, and networking events. Under her leadership, the MCCA emerged as a thought leader on diversity, recruitment, retention, and pipeline initiatives for multinational corporations around the world.

Earlier in her career, Richardson served as vice president and deputy general counsel at ACC, where she oversaw the development of online resources and continuing legal education for in-house lawyers. Her own expertise in the in-house arena was shaped through her work for more than a decade as in-house counsel at Sunoco, Inc. based in Philadelphia, where her practice focus was corporate governance, transactions, securities disclosure, and finance.

She received a B.S. in Business Management from the University of Maryland at College Park and a J.D. from the University of Maryland School of Law.

Stewart is a sounding board for legal executives, including GCs in Fortune 500 and smaller companies and firm and practice group leaders. He helps lawyers to: enhance critical strategic thinking and executive presence; navigate challenging situations, difficult conversations, internal conflicts and implicit bias; and advance their careers. As Senior Coach for Trusted Advisor Associates, Stewart helps their clients cultivate trust with colleagues and external partners. He also designs, delivers, moderates or participates in panels and workshops including: Association of Corporate Counsel; American Intellectual Property Law Association; Women, Influence & Power in Law Conferences; ACL's Women Leaders in Life Sciences Law; Minority In-House Counsel Association and others. His website contains a more complete list. In addition to his articles on reducing unconscious gender bias for the ABA, Stewart's numerous blogs and articles address building long-term trusted advisor relationships, developing business and enhancing leadership acumen. From 1980 to 2001, Stewart practiced law in firms and in-house, including the legal departments of TJX, Staples, Welch's, Cabot Creamery and Dun & Bradstreet subsidiaries and others.

Donna M. Hughes, JD, is a credentialed executive coach, consultant, and experienced human resources and legal executive. She is the Founder and CEO of Hughes Solutions, LLC, an executive coaching and human resources consulting business. Hughes Solutions' mission is to enable senior and emerging leaders, particularly women and people of color, to excel in their leadership capabilities, and positively shape their teams, organizations, and communities.

Over the course of her career in Fortune 500 global organizations, and a not-for-profit organization, Donna gained the respect of executive leaders and corporate boards for her ability to drive positive cultural change through inclusive leadership, and for her legal and business acumen. Donna most recently served as the Chief

People Officer for EmblemHealth, one of the nation's largest not-for-profit health insurers. In her time at EmblemHealth, Donna was named to Crain's New York Business' 2022 list of Notable Black Leaders, 2021 list of Notable Leaders in Healthcare, 2020 list of Notable Women in Talent, and was also named to Diversity Leadership, Inc.'s 2021 national list of "Top 50 HR Professionals". Her career and contributions at EmblemHealth were showcased by Profile Magazine's December 2019 article, "How Donna Hughes Guides Teams along the 'Curve of Change'". Donna's prior roles include SVP, Human Resources, for Impax Laboratories, Inc., Vice President, Labor & Employment for Allergan, plc, and Director and Assistant General Counsel for Circuit City Stores, Inc. Her rise through progressive leadership roles in the field of law to her tenure as a C-suite human resources executive was showcased by American Healthcare Leader's December 2017 article, "Seizing New Opportunities for Growth". Donna is a sought-after speaker for institutions of higher education, national organizations, and has been a guest podcast speaker on various topics including, the value of executive coaching, conscious leadership, diversity, equity and inclusion, culture transformation, and leading organizations through the Covid-19 pandemic and social unrest. In October 2021, Donna was the featured speaker at the Le Moyne College, Madden School of Business program "Conscious Leadership and Culturally Competent Healthcare." Donna is certified in Leadership Coaching for Organizational Performance (LCOP) through Rutgers University and has earned an ACC credential from the International Coaching Federation (ICF). Donna received her Juris Doctor from Rutgers University School of Law-Newark, and her Bachelor of Arts from Rutgers College, Rutgers University.
